Purchasing the free-of-charge calculation coreRMA·Kalypso

The following text shall describe, how you can purchase the free-of-charge calculation core RMA·Kalypso (so far for: Windows 32 bit/ 64 bit systems and Ubuntu 64 bit) for Kalypso 1D/2D. Unfortunately there is no automated download for the calculation core available. Consequently we ask you to contact us via Email to obtain the access data for download.

If you are interested in receiving the calculation core, please write an Email to

RMAKalypso@tu-harburg.de

with the subject: „RMA-Kalypso; request <date>"

The licensing is carried out according to the license text written in the document 'RMAKalypso_license_agreement_Version.pdf'. Please read the license agreement text carefully before you request the calculation core. Please explain with the request that you agree with the license. Additionally we ask you for filling one of the forms 'ContactData_singlePerson.' or 'ContactData_InstituteCompany.'. Please send the the filled form as attachment with the request.

Afterwards you will receive username and password to download Kalypso.

Explanation concerning your data privacy

As a scientific institute we are only interested in your personal data because of statistical reasons for us. Additionally we would like to keep you informed about the latest developments regarding the calculation core. Your data will be handled absolutely with care and will not be given to any other third party.

If you don't want to be automatically informed about latest releases of RMA·Kalypso, please advise us explicitly not to put your Email address to the mailing list.